

Dedap island, Batam

Snorkeling 3 islands

Snorkeling, 3 island

(Galang bahru-Abang besar-Dedap island)

Day 1 – Welcome to Batam

Batam offers rich cultural experiences, from bustling traditional markets to modern culinary delights. Easily accessible from Singapore and Malaysia, Batam is a popular short getaway for international travelers. With its friendly locals, affordable accommodations, and scenic views, Batam is the perfect destination for both relaxation and adventure.

You will meet our friendly tour guide who will accompany you throughout the journey.

Then depart to Galang Bahru Island (via land transfer).

Barelang bridge

You will stop for photo stop at Barelang Bridge, built under the leadership of B.J. Habibie, Indonesia's third president was constructed between 1992 and 2000. It symbolizes Batam's transformation into an industrial hub during the 1990s. The bridge connects Batam, Rempang, and Galang Islands, which is how it earned its name: Barelang. Take your time here to capture photos of the breathtaking view and this impressive feat of engineering.

Our adventure continues with a scenic one-hour land transfer to Galang Bahru Island. From there, we'll hop on a boat to reach Namu Island, where cozy accommodations await.

Boat to Namu Island

After the boat ride to Namu Island, you'll have time to change clothes and get ready for your snorkeling adventure. Be sure to gather all your belongings and bring everything you'll need for the trip before heading out to explore the vibrant underwater world.

Namu Island is a charming fishing community, where life moves at a peaceful pace and most locals make their living from the sea. The island relies on Batam, located over 80 kilometers away, for groceries and supplies, giving it a unique sense of

Ready for snorkeling at Abang island

Abang Island is surrounded by two smaller islets, known as Abang Besar and Abang Kecil. The local community lives in traditional stilt houses that float above the sea, preserving a way of life that has endured for over three generations. These residents are authentic Malay-Riau people, maintaining their cultural heritage and fishing traditions in harmony with the surrounding marine environment. Visiting the island offers a rare glimpse into their unique lifestyle, where the rhythm of life is closely tied to the tides and the sea.

Snorkeling at abang island

Abang Island is a paradise for nature lovers, boasting an abundance of vibrant blue corals and a diverse array of sea creatures that make snorkeling a truly magical experience. The underwater world here is teeming with life, from colorful tropical fish to intricate coral gardens, offering a glimpse into a rich and fragile marine ecosystem.

On land, the island features pristine white sandy beaches perfect for relaxation, while nearby mangrove forests play a crucial role in protecting the coastline from erosion and maintaining the island's natural balance. Together, the clear waters, thriving marine life, soft sands, and protective mangroves make Abang Island a harmonious blend of beauty and ecological importance, inviting visitors to appreciate and preserve its wonders.

Day 2 – Dedap Island

Dedap Island is a peaceful leisure island with no permanent residents, except for a caretaker who looks after the island. The island is dotted with numerous coconut trees, providing a tropical and serene atmosphere.

During our visit, we will stop for lunch, take a restful break, and enjoy swimming in the clear waters. The island is also home to red mangrove plants, whose fruits can be harvested and enjoyed as a unique local snack. Dedap Island offers a perfect combination of relaxation, natural beauty, and a touch of local flavor for visitors to enjoy.

Day 3 – Batam island

We will back to Batam island. The island is dotted with a variety of bars and restaurants that cater to every taste. Many eateries provide stunning sunset views over the Strait of Singapore, making dinner or drinks not just a meal, but an experience. Nightlife in Batam is equally lively, with bars and pubs where visitors can enjoy live music, local brews, and a friendly atmosphere that reflects the